

PEDRONCELLI

CHARDONNAY
SONOMA COUNTY, DRY CREEK VALLEY

FRANK JOHNSON VINEYARDS

The Frank Johnson Vineyard was planted to Chardonnay in the 1980s and is a primary source for Pedroncelli. A particular block is chosen for our small lot barrel-fermented style

Chardonnay. Aged for nine months in American Oak and French Oak, 15% new American oak. Tropical fruit flavors with green apple and honey-caramel notes.

PETITE SIRAH
SONOMA COUNTY, DRY CREEK VALLEY

FAMILY VINEYARDS

This varietal is known as the backbone grape of Chianti. In honor of the Pedroncelli heritage they planted this classic Italian varietal 20 years ago seeking to add some unique wines to their line. They named the three separate sites, which are located on their home ranch, “Alto Vineyards” for the steep hillsides where the vineyards thrive.

SANGIOVESE
SONOMA COUNTY, DRY CREEK VALLEY

ALTO VINEYARDS

Petite Sirah has been planted on the Pedroncelli vineyard since the early 1900s and used in their Zinfandel production as a key part of the blend. The “Family Vineyard” connection is with Carol Bushnell who is a third generation Pedroncelli; her vineyard has been a source of fruit since the 1940s. Deep and complex flavors of blackberries, black pepper spice and dark chocolate.
