This is a Pinot Noir with fortitude. It's not over-the-top, but it raises the bar. It's not out-of-balance, but it toes the line. Whilst keeping the wheels just off the ground this full-bodied, dark wine, boasts dark red fruit, perhaps plums, as it fills the mouth with round, plush deliciousness.

This multi-dimensional wine opens to plump blackberry on the layered palate, added complexity is provided by black licorice, clove, anise, pepper, cinnamon and cocoa with hints of roasted coffee and smoky earthy nuances on the lush extended finish. This shapely beauty is yummy, warm & cuddly.

Aged 30 Months Hungarian & French Oak. Opaque in color with sweet plum aromas. The wine is bright and sweet whose flavors explode in the mouth. At first blush, it seems not for the slight of heart as this powerful offering might seem like a monster, but it's wrapped in a down pillow.

2006 Reserve Zinfandel, Alviso Vineyard, Amador County

100% Zinfandel, certified organic vineyard, non-malolactic, aged 30 months in American oak
250 cases produced of this lovely powerhouse, perfumed with some clove and mint aromas. In the mouth there's an endless amount of juicy black fruit that will pair wonderfully with foie gras and duck.

2005 PORT from Amador County Zinfandel

Aged slowly in barrel for over 5 years Colheita style ~ 98 cases bottled
This is undoubtedly one of the finest examples of what California can do with a Port-style wine. It's extremely rich, sweet, and voluptuous; and it's loaded with dark chocolate, infused with black cherry notes. Finally, it's perfectly balanced, as the acidity in the finish cleanses the palate of any residual sugar, and gets one ready for the next spoonful of dessert.
